ANNUAL CLINICAL ASSEMBLY
OF OSTEOPATHIC SURGEONS
OSTEOPATHIC SURGERY: BUILDING A NEW FUTURE—TOGETHER

American College of Osteopathic Surgeons® • American Osteopathic College of Proctology, Inc.

PRELIMINARY PROGRAM AND REGISTRATION MATERIALS

Register now for the 2016 ACA! Attendees who register by Aug. 15 can save up to $100 off on-site registration fees.

Join us at the 2016 Annual Clinical Assembly

Dear fellow surgeon,

I invite you to join me at the 2016 Annual Clinical Assembly of Osteopathic Surgeons (ACA) that will be held Sept. 22-25 at the JW Marriott Phoenix Desert Ridge Resort & Spa in Phoenix, Ariz. The 2016 ACA program chairs have prepared an excellent educational program that you will not want to miss! And be sure to join us for the ACA Golf Tournament on the Faldo Championship Golf Course at the Wildfire Golf Club (separate registration required for this event).

This year's program will provide many exciting educational opportunities, including keynote sessions by leaders in the medical community:

- Clinical informatics expert Douglas E. Rosendale, D.O., FACOS, FACS, and ACOS Residency Evaluation and Standards Committee Chair Mandip S. Atwal, D.O., FACOS
- Theodore F. Classen Memorial Lecturer Annette Brooks, PhD
- Former U.S. Attorney General Regina M. Benjamin, M.D., MBA
- American Medical Association President Steven J. Stack, M.D., and American Osteopathic Association President Boyd R. Buser, D.O.

Please take a moment to review this preliminary program for the 2016 ACA, particularly the educational sessions planned for your specialty, special events that will be held, and registration deadlines. Then reserve your place at the ACA by visiting the ACOS website at www.facos.org to complete the registration process and to access helpful information about making hotel reservations and travel arrangements.

I encourage you to register for the ACA and make travel arrangements early because this is sure to be a popular meeting. You can make hotel reservations by calling the JW Marriott Phoenix Desert Ridge Resort & Spa at 480-293-5000; be sure to let the agent know that you are attending the Annual Clinical Assembly of Osteopathic Surgeons or "ACA." You also can book a room online through the ACOS website at www.facos.org. The JW Marriott Phoenix Desert Ridge Resort will honor its special ACA rate until Aug. 29, 2016, or until the hotel room block is filled, whichever is sooner. After that time, the group rate will be offered based on availability only.

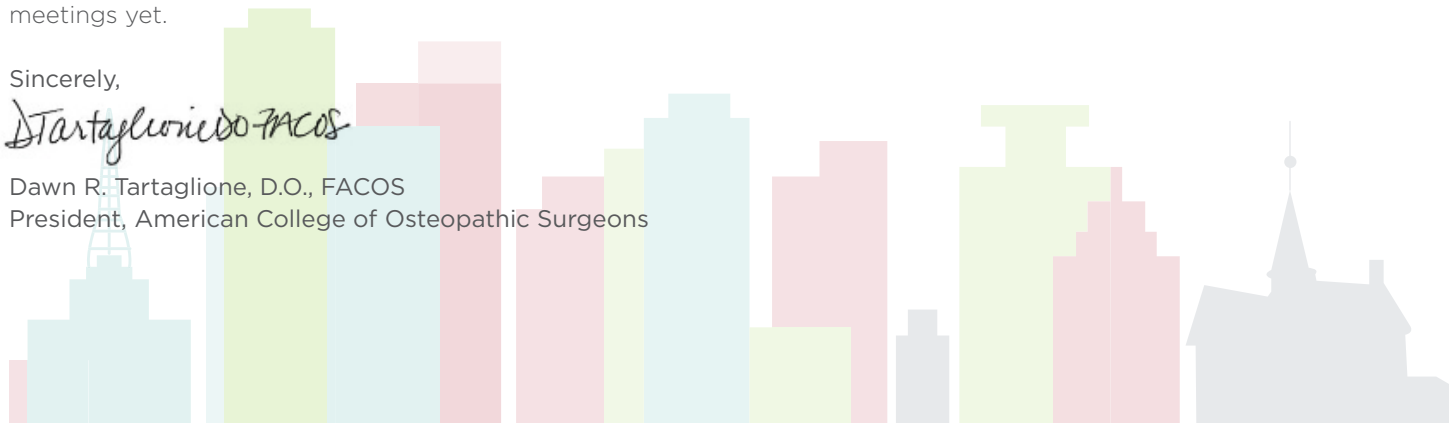

The 2016 ACA mobile app will be available for download in August through Apple iTunes and Google Play for attendees to view the program schedule, speakers, exhibitors, sponsors, and a roster of preregistered attendees.

Finally, with all the dynamic changes occurring in healthcare, new connections and associations are key to moving forward into the future. As you browse this program, take note of and plan to attend the networking functions planned for the 2016 ACA.

I look forward to seeing you in Phoenix for what will be one of our most enjoyable and educational meetings yet.

Sincerely,

Dawn R. Tartaglione, D.O., FACOS
President, American College of Osteopathic Surgeons

TARGET AUDIENCE

The target audience for the Annual Clinical Assembly of Osteopathic Surgeons (ACA) is osteopathic surgeons in the practice of cardiothoracic and general vascular, general, neurological, plastic and reconstructive, proctological, and urological surgery.

ACA OBJECTIVES AND OUTCOMES

The objectives of this meeting are:

- To offer a highly diversified program of continuing medical education for the specialties of cardiothoracic and general vascular, general, neurological, plastic and reconstructive, proctological, and urological surgery;
- To keep surgeons in these specialties, other interested physicians, and healthcare professionals informed regarding recent developments and advances in the art and science of surgery;
- To provide a review of selected areas of the attendees' surgical specialties;
- To discuss pre- and postoperative issues related to surgery;
- To inform attendees of trends and changes in governmental legislation and regulations; and
- To inform surgical specialists regarding developments related to surgery in other fields of science, in socioeconomics, and in education.

The methods that will be used to achieve these objectives are:

- Panels, symposia, and lectures;
- Scientific paper presentations;
- Peer-to-peer discussions;
- Questions from participants and answers from presenters; and
- Scientific exhibits and poster presentations.

At the completion of this meeting, surgeons in attendance will:

- Be more familiar with recent clinical developments in their surgical specialties;
- Be able to implement knowledge learned into their surgical practice in order to improve patient care;
- Better understand the indications, techniques, complications, and outcomes of various surgical procedures; and
- Be more aware of relevant socioeconomic and governmental issues relating to surgery and patient care.

OPTIONAL WORKSHOPS AND SEMINARS

Teresa Romano, RN, MBA, CP, CDMP—A consultant with the Chicago-based practice management consulting and training firm KarenZupko & Associates, Teresa has more than 25 years of consulting and teaching experience in the healthcare field. She works with physician groups and hospitals, combining a background in clinical systems with solid approaches to operational and organizational problem solving.

WORKSHOP: “Highlights of Coding and Reimbursement for Surgeons”

THURSDAY, SEPT. 22, 2 – 5 P.M.

Presenter: Teresa Romano, RN, MBA, CP, CDMP

Registration fee: $225

Accurate coding and documentation of evaluation and management (E/M) visits and surgical procedures is essential, not only to optimize your practice revenues but also to respond effectively to denials or payer audits. This workshop by Teresa Romano focuses on what you need to know about key coding issues in surgery coding and documentation, including the following:

- Physician payment update—How are surgical procedures paid? How will the prospect of alternative payment models impact surgeons?
- The surgical global period—What’s included and what can be billed separately? When are preoperative visits billable? When are postoperative complications billable?
- Billing procedures and E/M visit on the same day—When is this appropriate, and why is this an audit target?
- Coding co-surgery vs. assistant surgery—Are you coding and documenting these correctly?
- Using the 22 modifier for increased payment—When is this feasible, how is it documented, and will you get paid?
- Using unlisted codes—Is there another way to bill unlisted procedures, and are they ever paid?
- Outpatient and inpatient E/M coding—Why is choosing a code category tougher than ever?
- E/M coding and your EMR—Tips for avoiding the pitfalls of EMR-driven E/M documentation.

This program will be eligible for 3 hours of AOA Category 2-B CME credit.

WORKSHOP: “Highlights of ICD-10 Coding for Surgeons and Audit Awareness—What Surgeons Need to Know”

FRIDAY, SEPT. 23, 9 A.M. – 12 NOON

Presenter: Teresa Romano, RN, MBA, CP, CDMP

Registration fee: $225

The transition to ICD-10 coding has gone relatively smoothly this year, as Medicare and most payers promised leniency for claims with incorrect or unspecified codes. However, Oct. 1, 2016, ends the year of ICD-10 “light” and brings more than 2,000 new or revised codes. This workshop will address these ICD-10 topics:

- What can you expect in the second year of ICD-10 coding?
- Why is coding for comorbidities essential in today’s healthcare environment?
- Using unspecified codes—How risky is it, and will these claims always be denied?
- Using the 7th character in ICD-10 coding—What constitutes an initial encounter, a subsequent encounter, and sequelae? When is the 7th character used?
- How should surgical complications be coded?

Medicare and private payers are vigilant in pursuing “overpayments” they believe were made incorrectly to physicians. Programs for profiling and reviewing claims for errors and audits are on the rise. How can you avoid an audit or deal with a record review or repayment demand from Medicare or a private payer? This session will cover audit awareness for surgeons:

- Who are the major players in Medicare’s audit line-up? What about private payers?
- What key issues lead to an audit? What areas of risk should you be aware of in E/M coding, surgical coding, and E/M visits and procedures performed the same day?
- What are comparative billing letters, and how should you respond if you receive one?
- What does a request for records mean, and how should you respond?
- What happens if the payer demands a repayment? Can you appeal? How is this best handled?

This program will be eligible for 3 hours of AOA Category 2-B CME credit.

OPTIONAL WORKSHOPS AND SEMINARS

Osteopathic Surgical Educators Seminar: “Meeting the Training Demands of Today’s Surgical Resident”

SATURDAY, SEPT. 24, 8 A.M. - 12:30 P.M.

Hosted by the ACOS Residency Evaluation and Standards Committee

Registration fee: Program directors—$325;
Program coordinators—$150

There are more than 90 American Osteopathic Association (AOA) surgical residency programs in general surgery, general vascular surgery, cardiothoracic surgery, neurological surgery, plastic and reconstructive surgery, surgical critical care, and urological surgery approved by the AOA/ACOS. The annual Osteopathic Surgical Educators Seminar provides program directors and faculty in these residency programs the opportunity to share information and their experiences in teaching osteopathic surgical residents and to discuss common and emerging issues affecting their residents and training programs—including the challenges facing them as they apply for Accreditation Council for Graduate Medical Education (ACGME) accreditation.

The AOA announced on Feb. 26, 2014, that the ACGME, American Association of Colleges of Osteopathic Medicine, and AOA agreed on a memorandum of understanding to create a new “unified accrediting body” for graduate medical education. Effective July 1, 2015, AOA accredited training programs can apply for ACGME accreditation and will be granted “pre-accreditation” status by the ACGME upon receipt of their online application. Programs will maintain pre-accreditation status until they achieve initial ACGME accreditation, withdraw from the application process, or until June 30, 2020, if they have not received full ACGME accreditation. Until AOA programs are fully accredited by the ACGME, programs and program directors must continue to comply with AOA/ACOS standards.

Nearly half of all AOA/ACOS surgical residency programs have applied and received ACGME pre-accreditation status since the July 1, 2015, effective date. What steps should programs take next to achieve “initial” ACGME accreditation and beyond? This year’s Osteopathic Surgical Educators Seminar will focus on initial ACGME accreditation to assist surgical residency programs in reaching this level of accreditation.

8 - 8:30 A.M.

Welcome and Introductions

Facilitator: Mandip S. Atwal, D.O., FACOS, Chair of ACOS Residency Evaluation and Standards Committee

8:30 - 10 A.M.

An Overview of ACGME Accreditation for AOA Programs

Presenter: *Donna L. Lamb, MBA, BSN, ACGME
Executive Director for Plastic Surgery, Surgery, and Thoracic Surgery, dlamb@acgme.org*

More than 50 AOA/ACOS surgical residency programs have applied for ACGME accreditation. Fewer than a dozen programs have received “initial” ACGME accreditation, while several more have received continuing pre-approval status. The goal of the ACOS Residency Evaluation and Standards Committee (RESC) is for programs to receive initial accreditation as expeditiously as possible. ACGME site visit data reveal common reasons that residency programs are not receiving initial accreditation right way—program directors and faculty lack scholarly activities and pub med publication; programs lack a formal evaluation system for faculty and residents; and more. Donna Lamb will address the current ACGME accreditation status of AOA/ACOS programs, and the necessary steps for ensuring that programs receive ACGME initial accreditation.

10:15 A.M. - 12:30 P.M.

ACGME Accreditation: Break-out Discussions

Specialty-specific Discussion

Facilitator: Donna L. Lamb, MBA, BSN, ACGME Executive Director for Plastic Surgery, Surgery, and Thoracic Surgery, dlamb@acgme.org

Donna Lamb will conduct this one-on-one session to answer general surgery, plastic surgery, and cardiothoracic surgery program directors’ questions about completing the ACGME application.

Stop-and-Swap Session

Facilitator: RESC member Phillip C. Ginsberg, D.O., JD, FACOS, urolaw@aol.com

During this session, program directors will share their best practices for achieving initial ACGME accreditation.

Answers from the RESC

Facilitator: RESC Chair Mandip S. Atwal, D.O., FACOS, atwalms@hotmail.com

RESC Chair Mandip Atwal will answer attendee questions about ACGME accreditation during this concluding session.

This seminar will be eligible for 4.25 hours of AOA Category 1-A CME credit.

Meeting Details

PHOENIX

Phoenix is the capital of Arizona and anchor city of the state's multi-city metropolitan area known as the "Valley of the Sun." There is much to see and do in this area known for its luxury resorts, Jack Nicklaus-designed golf courses, cultural offerings, vibrant nightlife, and abundant sunshine and natural wonders. Go rock climbing up Camelback Mountain, hike Sunrise Trail in the McDowell Sonoran Preserve, or bike the Arizona Canal Trail from Phoenix to Scottsdale. Take in the natural beauty of the Southwest at the Desert Botanical Garden, and experience the culture of the area's Native American tribes at Heard Museum. Soak up Phoenix's art offerings in Roosevelt Row art district and at the Phoenix Art Museum. Visit Old Town Scottsdale for great shopping, dining, and after-dark nightlife, and tour Frank Lloyd Wright's Taliesin West home in Scottsdale.

While in Arizona, also plan to see the Grand Canyon's breathtaking vistas and Flagstaff's scenic beauty and Old West and Native American museums. Other tempting destinations include: Sedona, a desert town famous for its red stone formations, galleries, spas, and vineyards; Montezuma Castle featuring one of America's best preserved cliff dwellings; Tombstone, site of the Gunfight at the O.K. Corral; the copper mining town of Bisbee; and the famous Apache Trail.

Sunday, Sept. 25	7 – 10 a.m.

AOA CME CREDITS

You can earn American Osteopathic Association continuing medical education (AOA CME) credit by participating in the educational programs and activities at the 2016 ACA. The registration packet that you receive on site will include instructions on how to access the online CME tracking and program evaluation system. In accordance with the AOA CME accreditation requirements, you must complete an evaluation of each session attended in order to receive AOA CME credit. Physicians should only claim credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in each ACA educational program and/or activity.

The ACA anticipates being approved by the AOA Council on Continuing Medical Education for a maximum of 28.5 AOA Category 1-A CME credit hours as follows:

Thursday, Sept. 22	maximum of 7 credits
Friday, Sept. 23	maximum of 8 credits
Saturday, Sept. 24	maximum of 9.5 credits
Sunday, Sept. 25	maximum of 4 credits

An official roster of ACA registrants and the number of CME credits submitted by each registrant will be provided to the AOA, and the credits submitted by each registrant will be entered in his or her AOA CME activity report. After the program evaluation has been completed, a CME “certificate of attendance” can be printed by the registrant. You may either print your certificate at the ACA and/or e-mail it to your home or office for printing. The ACA no longer mails certificates of attendance to ACA attendees after the meeting. Any questions regarding the CME requirements, eligible CME credits for this meeting, or problems such as facilities or program content may be directed to the ACA staff by calling 800-888-1312, ext. 107.

Unresolved issues regarding the compliance of this meeting with the AOA accreditation requirements may be brought to the attention of the AOA Division of CME by calling 800-621-1773, ext. 8054. Any formal action by the AOA will require a written communication from the attendee.
